EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The East Norwalk Association (ENA) Library offers an important service to the community a place where books, computers, homework space and skilled librarians converge in an ongoing process of learning and sharing resources. The ENA Library is separate from the Norwalk Public Library system, offering a singular collection of 24,000 print titles and 2,500 DVDs/CDs. This master plan is an opportunity to realign library services to meet the changing community needs in East Norwalk.

From May-November 2015, the consultant team met with the Third Taxing District (TTD) community ratepayers, ENA Library Board, and library staff to discuss the future of the library: what works, what doesn't, how to maximize benefits vs. cost. The community viewed the library as a traditional service with a personal touch. However, there were community members that wanted new ways of thinking and bold leadership. They wanted the Library to be the cultural heart of East Norwalk.

The TTD commissioners wanted a stronger community library that is welcoming, transparent and able to provide maximum services for the money provided. The ENA board and members of the community describe the need for an accessible program room as well as increased budgets to expand the hours.

The ENA's limited finances (in the form of a TTD district budget) are stable, remaining flat for the past several years. The community could change the TTD charter to increase funding, but public support is perceived as limited. For the most part, ENA fundraising is limited to the rental of the facility.

To move forward, the TTD and ENA Library Board need a unified strategy. The realignment of the ENA Library can begin by creating a new Library Foundation, comprised of ENA, TTD and the public; this diverse group would work together to achieve their goals. The Foundation would provide a solid base from which to raise funds to support the Library and center of East Norwalk. The 501(c) 3 organization provides a structure to generate funds and an opportunity for the TTD to facilitate support for the library.

The status of the East Norwalk Library Foundation (incorporated 2008) is presently dormant. The ENA Board can reestablish the 501(c) 3 application with the IRS. A full set of By-Laws exists, and the original Foundation Board membership includes members of the ENA Board. Members of the community are favor of a library foundation. However, they feel it needed to be recreated with TTD support.

The appreciation for the Library staff and volunteers was apparent throughout the study. However, it is our opinion that the Executive Director reduced the value that our team could provide: by either not participating or by resisting any and all suggestions.

Aligning the culture and roles of the ENA Library with the goals of East Norwalk electors requires an open dialogue. Strategic business models—where employees and management talk simply and honestly about performance on a regular basis—have found that a direct approach helps to establish context rather than control.<sup>1</sup> The TTD commissioners seek a context-based management relationship with the ENA Library Board and Library staff.

ENA Board members dutifully defended the need for a community library. They knew that public spaces make a difference to those who don't have the resources. However, the efforts and concerns of non-staff are under-appreciated by the Executive Director. In this document, we included commentary that suggests he is unwilling to concede that anyone outside the Library can offer a valuable idea. For these reasons, we recommend a succession plan is developed to ensure future communication is positive, open and transparent.

The strategies outlined in this document are intended to increase access to the Library; they include ILL services and ADA accessibility. Specifically, the ENA Library needs a capital campaign to make such public services more accessible. This fund-raising target could vastly improve library services and create a cultural center in East Norwalk; that in turn would increase the value of public and private property in the neighborhood.

A PLAN FOR GROWTH

To maximize the opportunities for the ENA library, several options for the future were analyzed. For example, the explosion of digital technologies over the past decade has created empowered patrons that use search tools and information gathering on their own terms. In response to the changing needs of the community and the future service plan of the library, this study analyzed the following:

- Inventory of Library
- Community Research
- Community Insight and Behavior

Our high-level recommendations include:

- 1. Keep the library but find ways to improve it, perhaps creating a specialty library
- 2. Give the library building back to the ENA, which would require examination of the deed and charter with regard to reversionary rights
- 3. Merge with the Norwalk Public Library System

This study explores the first option in detail.

The primary finding of this study is the need to improve ADA access to the Van Zant community room; the building can be made ADA accessible with a new elevator and bathrooms. This will provide easy access to the community room, learning spaces and services.

- The Library's ability to provide ample parking is an important asset.
- The potential to improve access to this space will increase the library's revenue.

In order to accomplish this, the TTD and ENA leadership will need to develop a partnership Foundation for fundraising. The foundation board members should include board members of ENA, commission members of TTD and the public. It will enable the ENA Library Board to leverage the TTD's expertise, creating a team to ensure fundraising goals are achieved.

- A foundation partnership will allow the community to support the Library
- It will help the ENA and TTD measure fundraising progress, determining the costs and returns for fundraising events
- It will enable East Norwalk electors and TTD commissioners to support a capital campaign, collaborating on marketing events and fundraising efforts

Growth and Sustainability

To help gain support for the library, the following agenda has been developed:

- 1. Organize ENA Library and TTD into a fundraising partnership
- 2. Create fundraising activities (marketing and programs)
- 3. Measure fundraising outcomes and costs
- 4. Add interlibrary loan services to generate more traffic to the library
- 5. Grow library programs, collections and service using volunteers
- 6. Build relationships with the East Norwalk electors by honoring those who supported East Norwalk's improvements

A Community Effort

The transformation to a high-value community library with ample funding must come from collaborative management, with the TTD and ENA collaborating at the management level. Since the library building is owned by the TTD, the East Norwalk electors have a role to play in improving access to the ENA Library. Every member of the community can help and support improvements to the ENA's building and services.

Plans for the Future

The development of the ENA Library should consider, in a strategic manner, the following goals:

- Improve ADA access to the library building
- Create a library foundation to help organize fundraising activities
- Increase library hours, increasing staff time or create a trusted volunteer program
- Increase access to collections by developing interlibrary loan partnerships
- Create a library technology plan

SERVICE GOALS AND PRIORITIES

The following are definitions that we use in these pages:

- Service goals define the benefits that East Norwalk residents can receive as the ENA Library modifies services.
- Strategic service priorities define the kinds of services, collections, staffing and spaces that we believe will be more responsive to East Norwalk's long-term needs.

Service Goals

After considering the results of the ENA Library Board Meetings, Staff Roundtables, Open Forums and Library Planning Committee Meetings, ACA recommends the following four service goals:

1. Capital Campaign to Make the ENA Library Accessible

The ENA Library needs to begin a capital campaign to make the library ADA accessible. A library foundation can be created by the TTD and ENA Library Board to support the capital campaign. The TTD can use its marketing fund to do co-sponsored ENA events. These events would enable the TTD and ENA to support community involvement.

2. Reconfigure the Interior to Support Learning

The ENA Library should incorporate ACA's four modes of learning (touch-point/presentation, collaborative, social and reflective spaces). For example, the book stacks can be rearranged to provide a better utilization of library space i.e. more seating and study spaces for children, youth, adults and seniors.

3. Collection Management and Improved Access Through Interlibrary Loan

The ENA Library can increase access to hardcopy resources by extending a service agreement with the Norwalk Public Library or local consortia. This will help the ENA Library reach residents that are using the Norwalk Public Library's collection.

4. Become a Community Hub

East Norwalk is a diverse community; the Library can provide unique services to enhance the East Norwalk community. Volunteers can be organized to support book clubs, author readings, cultural programs, presentations, book fairs, education festivals, children's programs, food events and concerts. The library's parking lot is an asset for programming and cultural events, enabling easy access.

Strategic Service Priorities

The planning process revealed the following six priorities for the library:

1. Create a Capital Campaign. The library needs to raise funds to make the library ADA accessible, as outlined in the executive summary. The library needs to:

- Create a target budget for fundraising
- Hire a library fundraising expert
- Work with the TTD to provide in-kind marketing services
- Improve the library's outreach efforts
- Analyze how the Community Room can become accessible with limited funds
- Examine how to create a flexible first floor space that can be used for fundraising events

2. Develop a Library Foundation. Forming a library foundation will enable easier fundraising for the capital campaign. A library foundation has many other benefits:

- Support the public library with an independent nonprofit
- Nonprofit status enables donations to be tax-deductible
- Nonprofit status increases eligibility for grants
- Increase involvement from businesses and non-users
- Provide funding for "extras"
- Donors able to specify uses for funds (collection, reading room, etc.) and feel more confident that money is being spent as intended

The first steps include selecting or redeveloping the Library Foundation's Board of Directors and officers; preparing Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws; and applying for tax-exempt status with the Internal Revenue Service. Some private funding or fundraising will be necessary to cover legal fees and document filing fees; public funds may not be used to organize and establish a foundation.

3. Identify strategies to make it easier for East Norwalk Residents to access books and media through a shared interlibrary loan system. The library needs to:

- Analyze how staff will handle interlibrary loan processing, receiving and distribution of library resources from other libraries
- Examine how to integrate with a consortia's interlibrary loan operations and the ENA Library information system
- Realign the library's collection management, adding patron driven library information system tools

4. Develop a new building layout that improves the user experience. Analyze the layout of the ENA library to enhance the users' experience. The library needs to develop strategies that will:

• Realign the library's the first floor to provide more seating and learning opportunities

- Analyze how to improve the Van Zant Community room to increase the library's revenue
- Examine how to improve the library's space utilization with limited funds

5. Develop a print collection profile for the next 10 years. The library should continue to collect the "long tail<sup>2</sup>" as well as make popular books available on-site. The library needs to develop strategies that will:

- Assign the maximum and minimum storage requirements for the library's collections
- Evaluate the size of the collection

6. Develop strategies for building security. The library needs to identify and address security concerns in an organized way. The library needs to develop strategies that will:

- Make cost-effective improvements to the security system
- Analyze how outdoor space and areas around the building can be secured at night
- Add security cameras for collection protection and control measures
- Add swipe card system for board members, volunteers and staff
- Add a system to allow meetings to be held when the library is closed

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

Digital information technologies are continuing to change the ways in which we live, work, and spend our leisure time. The utility of hardcopy in the form of paper and books is either on the wane or actually disappearing. This is of major concern to our nation's libraries.

Indeed, libraries were once bastions of hardcopy. Many libraries still sport rows upon rows of book-stacks, but, today, few people browse the materials housed in them. It's easier to search online, get it at the library or download an e-book, or use a digital browser or an app to find information.

What is the future of the ENA library facility? Years ago, the electors of East Norwalk made an enormous investment by tying support for the library building with the TTD's charter. This required an open and transparent relationship with the TTD.

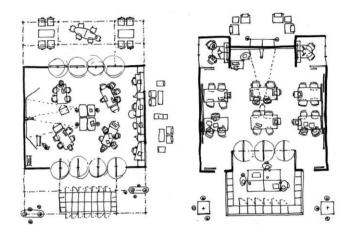

Over the last 6 months, we worked with the TTD commissioners, ENA Library Board and residents of East Norwalk. Below is an overview of planning activities.

Rethinking Library Space

The ENA Library needs to revamp the space plan so that it can be continue to be relevant to the East Norwalk community. The facility should be thought of as a "place" with five environments that merge into one another.

- The first of these places are the Touch Points or service points. A touch point may feature a staff member located at a desk. Or it may be a computer display that provides information about specific services and where to find them in the library.
- The next place is a collaboration area in which patrons may work with each other. The area may be open or it may contain a series of modular rooms that can change as participants change. Tutoring is one activity that can take place here. Another is student collaboration on specific projects.

- The third place is a reflective area for individual work and study. This area may contain a variety of comfortable individual and four-person tables, chairs and lounge chairs.
- The fourth place is a social and interpersonal area. It may include a large open area near the entrance for people to talk to one another. It also includes a café
- The fifth place is a large meeting room or an auditorium for theatrical, large presentations, and large group training.
- The majority of the ENA library's spaces are filled with hardcopy, which can be reproportioned into a modern library design (see programming section). Besides offering books, the ENA Library also provides free parking. This is a very important be- cause people like libraries that are easy to use and accessible.
- The library's parking already enables the library to charge for its meeting room. This means that improvements to the building will likely increase homework related services, and enable patrons to perform training, use software programs, study and receive tutoring, collaborate with one and another, and hold meetings.

NOTES TO ESTIMATED INCOME and EXPENSES:

Despite only two months of the use of Fiscal Year 2014/2015 budget we are committed to keeping our expenses for Fiscal Year 2015/2016 at the same level thereby eliminating the need to increase our request for Third Taxing Distric funds.

We have adjusted some Operating Expense categories, compared to 2014-2015, to more realistically reflect where each expense may be applied. This does not affect an increase in total operating expenses for 2015-2016 which, too, remains as before.

This proposed Budget, we feel, enables the East Norwalk Association/East Norwalk Association Library to continue not only to provide existing services and programs for its community, but will help enable responsible response to new and growing needs for the people we serve. We will manage this by judicious use of the funds available and call upon the strengths of our in-house capabilities and support of in-kind services to assure our commitment as the "Cornerstone of our Community."

Respectfully submitted: Stanley M. Siegel, Executive Director.

Balanced Scorecard

We applied the principles of the Balanced Scorecard, a strategic planning and management system used to align activities with the vision of the organization. This can improve communications and provide input on the performance of the library.

LEARNING AND GROWTH

The Learning and Growth perspective focuses on employee support and cultural attitudes. At the ENA library, the staff members are an important resource. Therefore, their goals need to be incorporated into the library's plan.

During our first planning meeting for the TTD, we asked participants to share their vision of the library. Below is a list of goals and ideas for the TTD, ENA and library staff to build on.

GOALS

We uncovered the following goals through our discussions:

- Make Building ADA compliant
